ACT I · THE PROBLEM

Several of these points are also our own conclusions, from working on our own products.

We hit the same problems: comments that taught the next review nothing, one reader finding only part of what outside reviewers found, three readers costing three times one. review-loop is what we built.

The numbers shown for review-loop are our own measurements, small and early.